

Interfaith Studies

Introduction

The Islamic Resource Center has a variety of books meant to promote discussion and understanding between Islam and different religions. These books are valuable for non-Muslims to learn more about Islam straight from the source. With the rise of Islamophobia it is more important than ever to spread accurate information about Islam and its commonality with other Abrahamic religions.

Books

A Christian view of Islam : essays on dialogue by Thomas F. Michel ; edited by Irfan A. Omar.

Call Number: 261.27 .M53

More in common than you think : the bridge between Islam and Christianity by William W. Baker.

Call Number: 261.27 .B35

Muslim, Christian, and Jew : finding a path to peace our faiths can share by David Liepert.

Call Number: 201.5 .L54

Common ground between Islam and Buddhism by Reza Shah-Kazemi ; with an essay by Shaykh Hamza Yusuf ; introduced by H. H. the Fourteenth Dalai Lama, H. R. H. Prince Ghazi bin Muhammad, Mohammad Hashim Kamali.

Call Number: 297.2843 .S53

Films

Christians & Islam

"Did you know that Muslims believe that Jesus (peace upon him) was one of the greatest prophets sent to humankind? Did you also know that Muslims believe that Jesus was conceived without a father and that Muslims hold his mother, Mary, in the highest regard? These are some of the many questions that this film addresses. It shows the many similarities and the few differences between these two great faiths" --Container.

Call Number: 18

Websites:

The Center for Muslim-Christian Understanding at Georgetown University

The Center for Muslim-Christian Understanding at Georgetown University has a variety of different resources for interfaith discussion.

The Institute of Interfaith Dialog

The Institute of Interfaith Dialog has articles and resources on all faiths with the purpose of creating better understanding between the faiths.